The Geneva sideboard is a spacious unit designed to add personality to your interior space. Featuring slim doors that protrude beyond the edge of the frame and swing open on hidden hinges, offering a dynamic response to storage and space management needs. Each of the modules of the sideboard are made of engineered wood panels, with internal clear glass shelving and the option of an internal LED light and mirrored back. The large, expressive handles, either square or rectangular, can be arranged to form changing geometric compositions, matching or contrasting with the doors, while the base can be customised using a range of Pianca's lacquered, wood or metal finishes. Dimensions include base of 13.3cm high.
