LOGOS SIDEBOARD

The Logos collection extends, spawning a new and prestigious sideboard collection. With the development of this project, which has ventured beyond the bedroom into the living area, Pianca cements its reputation as a company offering “total living” solutions. The front part of the modules is a composition of offset, overlaid inter-communicating elements, an homage to artist and designer Bruno Munari, who conducted a lengthy study of the spatial effects deriving from placing coloured surfaces together. Contrasting colours can be used on the outside and inside surface, combining to create different looks that can range from playful to elegant according to individual tastes.
